

George Vogl

Managing Director

Leveraging over 15 years of experience as a former bankruptcy and consumer-rights Attorney, George has keen insight into the day-to-day technology and operational needs of this client base. Serving as Managing Director, he works with law firms to streamline their procedures and implement industry best practices. After nearly 10 years of general business, accounting, and financial-analysis experience, George brings a diverse perspective to the unique challenges facing bankruptcy Attorneys and utilizes that strong understanding to outline practical solutions that meet individual firm objectives. Working closely with Stretto's Product Development and Product Management Teams, he offers clients consultative guidance on new tools and resources that maximize productivity while compiling feedback in an effort to continually improve our technology solutions. George is active in the bankruptcy community serving as a member of the Illinois State Bar Association and NACBA, while also presenting webinars and other training courses.
